Rural Economic Development. 2,500 new lives touched by our programs. 6,350 members of our oven project communities received our ongoing support. 2 Households broke the poverty cycle barrier, achieving new financial security owning their own business during 2022. Our brick ovens are built for women seeking a sustainable source of income to support their families. They demonstrate an aptitude and desire to manage, maintain, and run a successful business. Furthermore, rural Costa Rican communities rarely have access to fresh baked goods, many in food desert areas where the sources are limited. Breads from our ovens offer a sustainable, fresh option for the community. Our oven program provides needed resources for the whole community, giving families the opportunity to live better lives and give back to their communities. Each oven project includes the construction of a new brick oven, a processing and packaging facility and seed funding for training, business development and start-up costs. During 2022, we worked within 23 different communities throughout Costa Rica and Honduras, empowering 93 women to overcome adversity and achieving financial security. During 2022, we added twelve new families to our brick oven community, empowering each family to move from living under the national extreme poverty level of $155 a month to earning over $600 a

Reasonable Cause Explanations

Explanation

---

As the president of this volunteer run non profit organization it was my full intention to file an extension in March, which would allow us time to complete our 990 report on time. Unfortunately, late February I contracted a dangerous and very painful infection (corneal ulcer) in my right eye, resulting in temporary vision loss. After an emergency return home, multiple attempts to kill the infection and a slow recovery period, I was finally able to regain my vision, with limited permanent damage. With all that was going on and after the healing process, I honestly thought I had filed the extension and I was planning on submitting by November, after our busy summer and fall fundraising periods. As a volunteer run organization, we work very hard to raise the valuable funds needed to support our mission. I do realize this was a significant error on my behalf and I am very concerned for the hardship I might cause the organization if we are charged a penalty fee and finance charges resulting in the late filing. Please consider this a reasonable and acceptable cause for our late filing.
